This Appendix defines general expectations applicable to the provision of Individual Placement and Support (IPS) Supported Employment Services to eligible appropriate individuals funded by the Department for Aging and Rehabilitative Services (DARS). This appendix applies only to organizations that are not Employment Service Organizations (ESOs). If an organization is an ESO then DARS Provider Agreement Appendix J applies.

I. Service Description

IPS is an evidence-based model of Supported Employment for individuals with the most significant disabilities (Category 1) with a primary diagnosis of serious mental illness or substance use disorders. IPS helps people living with behavioral health conditions work in regular jobs of their choosing. IPS services are provided in a working alliance with mental health services and Vocational Rehabilitation (VR) focusing on the individual's strengths and is based on the philosophy that work is treatment and leads to improved recovery outcomes. IPS is based on a 25-item fidelity scale and the following practice principles:

- A. Eligibility Based on Individual Choice (Zero Exclusion): Anyone who wants to work can participate in the program, and job seekers are not excluded based on diagnosis, symptoms, or history.
- B. Focus on Competitive Employment: The employment specialist helps job seekers look for competitive integrated employment.
- C. Attention to Individual Preferences: Services are based on the job seeker's preferences and choices.
- D. Integration of Rehabilitation and Mental Health Services: Services are integrated with mental health treatment teams to provide job seekers with collaborative, professional support.
- E. Rapid Job Search: Employment specialists help job seekers apply for employment quickly, rather than providing lengthy assessments or counseling.
- F. Systematic Job Development: Employment specialists develop an employer network and relationships based on job seekers' interests.
- G. Personalized Benefits Counseling: Professional counselors provide job seekers with information about how employment may affect their government benefits.
- H. Time-Unlimited and Individualized Support: Job seekers get personalized support after obtaining employment.

Provision of Individual Placement and Support (IPS) - Supported Employment By non-Employment Service Organizations (ESO)

Services Descriptions. Specific reporting requirements are noted in the Reporting and Billing section of this Appendix.

- 1. Career Profile: The purpose of the Career Profile is to engage with the participant, develop a trusting relationship with the participant, and to gather relevant information to assist in identifying employment goals and individualizing the IPS service delivery. The Career Profile is a “living” document intended to assist in meeting the employment and support needs of the participant. Development of the Career Profile should begin as soon as possible once a participant identifies an interest in employment and has been referred for IPS Services. The Career Profile is to be completed by the IPS employment specialist over the course of multiple meetings. Sources of information include: the person, the mental health treatment team, client records, and with permission, family members and previous employers.

The information collected should be used in assisting in a job search, provide insight into employment or educational goals and determine how supports may be planned and provided once the participant obtains employment. It should contain detailed information and reflect the choices, including disclosure of disability, preferences, and interests of the participant. Using this information, the service provider should develop an action plan for job development honoring the stated preferences of the participant.

- 2. IPS Job Development: Job Development in IPS uses a systematic approach to assist the participant to achieve the highest wages possible and find the best job match given the participant's strengths, abilities, capabilities, informed choice, concerns, priorities, interests, and resources. IPS Employment Specialists help individuals seek jobs directly, and do not provide extensive pre-employment assessment and training, or intermediate work experiences. The job process begins early, within 30 days of starting IPS services. This rapid job search is supported by IPS Employment Specialist developing relationships with employers through multiple face-to-face meetings. Employment Specialists take time to learn about the employers’ needs and the work environment while gathering information about job opportunities that might be a good fit for individuals they are working with.
- 3. Career Stabilization and Maintenance: These supports are planned for early in the employment process, are personalized, and follow the individual for as long as they need and want support. The focus is supporting the individual in becoming as independent as possible, and seeking to involve family members, co-workers, and other natural supports. These supports can be provided on the job site or off site and focus on the continued acquisition and development of skills needed to maintain employment (i.e. - addressing absences, personal leave, dealing with crises, conflict resolution skills, budgeting skills, financial literacy, and asset development.) The time frame for the provision of supported employment services is no longer than 24 months, unless, under special circumstances, the eligible individual and the VR Counselor agree to extend the time to achieve the employment outcome as identified in the IPE.

- 4. Extended Services: The definition of “extended services” according to CFR 361.5 (b)(20) “means [long-term follow-along] services and other appropriate services that are needed to support and maintain an individual with a most significant disability in supported employment and that are provided by a State agency, a private nonprofit organization, employer or any other appropriate resource, from funds other than funds received under this part and 34 CFR part 363 after an individual with a most significant disability has made the transition from support provided by the designated State unit.”

The purpose of extended services is to provide ongoing support services that are necessary to help an individual maintain a job or to restore stability as necessary after DARS case closure. Ongoing meetings with the individual and monthly contact with the employer are required for routine support, to monitor the individual’s work performance and adjustment, and to determine at the earliest time when destabilization appears to be occurring. The type and frequency of contact must be provided on a sufficient basis based on participant need, to ensure that the participant is maintained in employment.

The Provider shall work with the DARS counselor to arrange and/or provide ongoing and extended support services following the portion of supported employment time limited services sponsored by DARS.

Ongoing planning and collaboration with the individual, VRC and IPS Team is essential in ensuring thorough and individualized supports are provided. The team will work with the individual to identify potential extended support services that may be needed prior to obtaining a job and again once a job is obtained.

People are exited off the IPS team when they like their jobs and no longer feel that they need IPS services. Most people receive job supports from an IPS specialist for about a year; however, some individuals may need support from the IPS team less than a year and some may need more than a year. Some individuals will receive extended services through Waiver funding, some may receive follow along from other services and supports including the mental health treatment team, a family member, employer, etc.

- B. Effective planning and collaboration with mental health and VR is imperative in the provision of IPS Services. Frequent contact with mental health treatment teams and VR Counselors helps practitioners work as a team to assist people with their employment goals. IPS Employment Specialists arrange to participate in mental health treatment team meetings at the mental health agency and share documentation for the team to work together to help with employment.
